
It keeps Loading....

Posted by bugris1410 - 2007/08/12 13:54

Hi,
I've installed on my site but it keeps loading and loading. Is there anything wrong?

CB 1.1
JOOMLA 1.0.13

You can see it on my demo site, <http://virusmac.com>

=====

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by brian_williford - 2007/08/12 15:28

Yes, the sunblogger template you are using has a customized copy of mootools that does not support bounce. You can try to disable that in the module or simply turn back on using the mootools file I provided and leave your sunblogger copy on also.

Firebug showed me this error so I think I am correct.

Fx.Transitions.Bounce has no properties

Brian

=====

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by bugris1410 - 2007/08/12 16:19

thank you, but I have tried to activate other templates too. It stills shows loading forever. I don't want any animations, it was enough for me to have ajax online member status...

I've tried to deactivate mootools.js on both sides, in your module and in the template preferences. Is there any conflict with the javascript version?

=====

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by brian_williford - 2007/08/12 16:52

you have it backwards. The probablem is my mootools file is missing from your template. The ajax is built into mootools. so without that there is no ajax call.

so you need to turn mootools file insert back on but set effect to none

no file, no load

sorry

=====

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by bugris1410 - 2007/08/12 17:18

hi, thanks for your reply, excuse me, but I installed your module just like other modules. I thought, I don't need any other component or module, do I?

What is your mootools file? mootools.js maybe? Which file should I put in which folder?

I think this is a great module. Just for that I've installed CB.

Thank you for your answer.

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by brian_williford - 2007/08/12 18:37

Sorry you are having a bit of trouble with this. It is a rather complicated chunk of code...

Mootools.js files are generally version 1.0 which is out of date. The Moolets require mootools version 1.1 and the file names are generally mootools.v1.11.js as so you can still keep your old file in the same directory.

There should be a parameter to include this file into the module but if that does not work hard code it to:

```
/modules/mod_moolet_online/js/mootools.v1.11.js
```

Brian

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by Fluid - 2007/08/12 23:14

exactly where do you hardcode this to then? I been trying to sort this problem out like other people and cant seem to get anywhere from your instructions so far.

Thanks, Mike

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by brian_williford - 2007/08/13 04:37

Mike,
I got lost along the way on this thread myself.

These modules are simply not going to work on all servers. I run linux / apache but have a dedicated server where I have total control. Shared hosts or windows hosts may not always cut it for Mootools + Ajax.

In your modules folder there should be the uploaded module file:
mod_moolet_online.php

on line 83 is the mootools-ajax javascript file insert.

```
echo '<script src="/modules/mod_moolet_online/js/mootools.v1.11.js" type="text/javascript"></script>' . "\n";
```

Might take the the line out of the PHP and put it in the head of your template.
<script src="/modules/mod_moolet_online/js/mootools.v1.11.js" type="text/javascript"></script>

IF that does not work you can post or private email me the URL of where you are setting this up and I will look at your server and see whats up

brian

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by bugris1410 - 2007/08/13 15:38

Hello Brian,

Unfortunately I couldn't get it work. I am sure my domain is hosted on a linux server, and my script settings are correct. The thing is, I tried to remove other mootools.js file and use your mootools, but it didn't work.

I think the problem is elsewhere. Probably because of the users. I had a SMF - Joomla bridge installed, which I removed some days ago, but I think there are some problems with the users there. I've got 1400 members, and maybe it couldn't get the user data from there, although I've synchronized the list with Community Bulider.

Although it's a great module, I cannot use it.

=====

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by brian_williford - 2007/08/13 15:56

Seems to be a few folks in the same boat. check back next Sunday. I am going to do a lite version that does not have the user image or mootools effects. That version will work without community builder and need less from the mootools file and server.

Thanks for trying however!

Brian

=====

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by bugris1410 - 2007/08/13 16:01

great news. I appreciate very much.

=====

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by bugris1410 - 2007/08/16 20:11

Hello Brian,

I am still trying it out, but without luck. Actually my demo site is a copy of a main site, and I am trying the components and templates on my demo site.

I removed all my users. I synchronized them with CB. After that I updated all my mootools files, I mean both the mootools.js files in my template and in your module are the same.

Apart from that, I turned off all animation effects.

I really don't know what to do next. The fact is, I even don't know where the problem is. Is it the mootools file or members?

I tried other templates too.

If you want to try, you can login to the site with user/pass: moolet/moolet

Thank you very much.

If it won't work, I am going to remove all site and install again.

PS: I realized that I opened this thread in the wrong place. It should be at the Moo's Online thread.

Post edited by: bugris1410, at: 2007/08/16 20:13

=====

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by brian_williford - 2007/08/16 20:40

There seems to be some issues with server and safe_mode on PHP.

I need to resolve it for those on shared hosts. Until I figure that one out I dont think there is anymore you can try sorry :S

=====

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by michel81 - 2007/08/21 22:27

hi i can't find anywhere in the php the line what is wrong?

=====

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by brian_williford - 2007/08/21 22:43

please post URL or PM me the site with module issue

=====

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by amelia.pt - 2007/08/22 04:50

Same on my site.

Have Joomla 1.0.12 and CB1.1

Don't know if I have the motools. How do I install it? Is it a mod or a comp?

Thanks :pinch:

=====

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by amelia.pt - 2007/08/22 13:55

It works.:cheer:

Yesterday it just was loading and didn't seem to get working.

Today, I accessed the site and it was working. So, problem solved.

By the way: I have Joomla 1.0.12 and CB 1.1 installed.

If anyone else are having trouble, maybe it's some Bot or module that's interfering...:pinch:

The thing I'm realizing is that Moo's online is giving me the same info that the Total Users module. It only displays how many are registered, not who is online. Although it ids the x member(s) online, it does not list them . Wasn't it supposed to list who is online, identifying them?

Post edited by: amelia.pt, at: 2007/08/22 14:13

=====

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by brian_williford - 2007/08/22 15:31

I have checked this out on other sites of mine and there is a big CSS design flaw on my part, if your member base exceeds the size of the area of the Avatar pane they all vanish!

You can fix by editing the moolet_online_css.css

I will post a fix soon.

brian the slopster codesmith....

=====

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by bugris1410 - 2007/08/22 17:09

Hello Brian,

I tried it on my demo site, without success, but on my real site, turkmac.com it is working! I am really amazed to see it working but there are some problems.

Firstly, the turkish characters on the names can not be seen, ok it is a ajax problem, not yours.

The important problem is, you cannot see the images of users. I tried to modify the settings at the module, but it didn't help. If I type the subfolder name at the settigns, the module stops working. How can I fix this? Is there any way of making it compatible?

Do I make something wrong?

=====

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by brian_williford - 2007/08/22 17:20

same problem as the post below, to many members for the CSS space. Edit the css file. I will be posting a version with a langauge file this weekend with the CSS fix if you want to wait for that brian

=====

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by bugris1410 - 2007/08/22 17:40

I am going to wait.

Thank you very much!!!

=====

Re:It keeps Loading....

Posted by amelia.pt - 2007/08/22 23:07

well, this afternoon the total users mod started to continuously download again... :unsure: the whos online mod worked well, although it shows 2 visitors, when in fact there is only me accessing the site. But that doesn't bother me.

I also had some trouble login in in my account, but that is a CB problem i suppose.:pinch:

=====

Re:It keeps Loading.... search engine spiders

Posted by brian_williford - 2007/08/22 23:14

I get my data from the joomla "sessions" table. Some search engines register as a visitors session so if you see a quick group come in and then quickly go that would be it. Have not seen any descerepancy with the members.

I have a chunk of code I want to get into these modules that will identify a sider and put up a avatar with their logo.

that is coming....

=====

Re:It keeps Loading.... search engine spiders

Posted by amelia.pt - 2007/08/24 01:41

That'll be great. I'll wait then... :laugh:

=====

Re:It keeps Loading.... search engine spiders

Posted by bugris1410 - 2007/08/28 00:20

Hello Brian,

This module is getting better and better, but I have got still the same problem. The module can not get the user pictures from the site. If I type my sub folder in the module, the module stops working. If I don't, there are no user pictures.

If you want to look:

<http://turkmacforum.com/turkmac/content/blogsection/4/31/>

I've got an "images" folder at the root. But the joomla site is in my <http://turkmacforum.com/turkmac> folder.

I tried writing "/turkmac/" "turkmac" "/turmac" and other possibilities, but without success. You can find the error at the activity window immediately.

I hope this is my mistake :)

Thank you for your effort.

Bugra

=====

Re:It keeps Loading.... search engine spiders

Posted by brian_williford - 2007/08/28 04:00

Hello,
The first issue I see is you are including 2 mootools.js files, the one that came with sunblogger template and the one that came with my module. You only want one mootools file to load even if you have 20 modules.

So here is a problem for you, the mootools.js with sunblogger is a partial subset, so if you use that one my module will not work.

The sunblogger tab on the template is old outdated code for mootools 1.0 and will not work with the mootools 1.1 file included. There may be and update at yootheme for some new tab code?

Here is where to configure mootools.js files, but mine has all the functions

Link: <http://mootools.net/download>

I keep my file at /scripts/js/mootools.v1.11.js to conform with joomla 1.5 standards as mootools is native to 1.5 and that is where the file is kept.

Then I changed my path in sunblogger to bring in this file. Then I turn off include mootools file in ALL my modules.

I will need you to get that far before I can see what else is needed to bring in the Avatars. I suspect we may need to change the language file. I think we hard coded this path for you in the total users module. might have to do the same think here

brian

=====

Re:It keeps Loading.... search engine spiders

Posted by bugris1410 - 2007/08/28 14:41

Hello Brian,

I've tried every possibilities, and I think your module is working correctly. It gets the data from the original joomla installation.

The only problem is the images. For example, if I type turkmac for sub folder, the module stops working, because the module is trying to get data from the sub-sub-turkmac folder, which doesn't exist.:

http://turkmacforum.com/turkmac/turkmac/modules/mod_moolet_online/mod_moolet_online.inc.php?passon=1&mod_folder=http://turkmacforum.com/turkmac/turkmac/modules/mod_moolet_online&enable_jslib=1&enable_internal_css=1&user_limit=8&aspect_ratio=h&name_link=1&order_by=0&format&avatar_width=40&avatar_height=50&avatar_noimage=turkmac/components/com_comprofiler/plugin/language/default_language/images/nophoto.jpg&nobody_text=kimse%20yok&show_total_members=&refresh_secs=30&away_fade=1&show_away_text=1&away_text=\(uzakta\)&away_secs=300&members_word=%FCye&guests_word=ziyaret%E7i&item_format=1&show_total=1&show_today=2&show_week=2&show_month=2&show_last=1&away_secs=300&members_word=%FCye&guests_word=ziyaret%E7i&item_format=1&show_total=1&show_today=2&show_week=2&show_month=2&show_last=1)

If you delete the second 'turkmac' word, it works, but without images. But this time, you get:

http://turkmacforum.com/images/comprofiler/946_46c46b4572cfd.jpg which should be ../turkmac/images/comprofiler...

All the rest is working correctly. (for now)

I am going to copy the comprofiler folder to my root/images folder to solve this problem.

Thank you for your answer and best regards :)

buÄŸra

=====